Always do your own due diligence and never invest more than you can afford to lose. The forex market is volatile and can cause loses. Past performance is not indicative of future results, and there is a possibility that you may lose all or part of your invested capital

FOREX TRADING

- Forex is the world’s largest financial market
- Forex trading is the buying and selling of currency pairs
- $9.6 trillion daily trading volume
- Operating 24/5

‘This slide is an independent team slide stating facts and figures derived from research to give a better understanding of the forex market

FOREX BROKERS

- A broker is the intermediary that gives retail traders access to the global currency market.
- Brokers provide trading platforms, real-time pricing, and order execution for currency pairs
- Brokers usually earn money through fees, spreads or commissions

⚠️ Important: Around 90% of forex brokers are not licensed or regulated, making regulation a critical factor when choosing a broker.

A-Book vs. B-Book Brokers

An A-Book broker acts as an agent and earn from commissions or spreads - not client losses.

A B-Book broker acts as the counterparty, taking the opposite side of client trades and profiting when clients lose.

In short:

A-Book = transparent execution, broker doesn't trade against you.
B-Book = broker is the market, and the counterparty to your trade.
